The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1,2,4,7,8,10,12,13,20,21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Grimes 532953 in view of Smith 1525330.

Grimes teaches an umbrella storage apparatus comprising an apparatus main body Figure 1, supporting member 14 and umbrella retaining locks 17.

Smith '330 teaches a cosmetic cover member 3 which can rotate between an open and closed position. To provide Grimes with a cosmetic cover member for the purpose of protecting the articles stored therein would have been obvious for one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention.

Applicant's remarks and arguments have been fully considered but are considered moot in view of the new grounds of rejection.
